Anthony Hontoir : Making Garden Furniture from Wood before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Making Garden Furniture from Wood:

Using simplified woodworking techniques, this book covers 14 pieces ranging from tables and chairs to birdhouses and fencing, all of which are useful and delightful additions to any garden. Projects range in difficulty for novice and experienced woodworkers to enjoy, and the book offers advice on tools and materials, an explanation of jointing techniques, and clear step-by-step instructions for each project, with cutting lists.

Technique and instruction really shine here. -- Library Journal
